ALBERTA PETROLEUM MARKETING COMMISSION – Mandate and Roles Document

1.0 Preamble

This Mandate and Roles Document has been developed jointly by the Alberta Petroleum Marketing Commission (“APMC”) and the Minister of Energy, pursuant to the Alberta Public Agencies Governance Act (the “APAGA”) to reflect a common understanding of their respective roles and responsibilities.

Because the APMC operates as an agent of the Crown in right of Alberta under the Petroleum Marketing Act (the “PMA”) and other statutes, there is broad cooperation and collaboration between the APMC and the Government of Alberta.

Each of the APMC and the Government of Alberta consider it necessary and advisable to clarify for Albertans their respective responsibilities and accountabilities relative to the execution of APMC’s mandate to manage the hydrocarbon resources of the Province.

1.1 Purpose of the APMC

The APMC was created in 1974 by the PMA as a provincial Crown corporation and an agent of the Government of Alberta. The APMC was initially responsible for marketing Alberta’s conventional crude oil royalty, developing prices used in royalty calculations and other energy related activities. In 2012, the APMC’s mandate was expanded to include assisting in the development of “Value Added” activity in Alberta’s petroleum sector, including the development of the Sturgeon Refinery, new energy markets and transportation infrastructure.

The APMC is accountable to and receives policy direction from the Minister of Energy.

1.3 Nature of this Document

This Mandate and Roles Document is made by the APMC and the Minister pursuant to and in accordance with the requirements of Section 3 of APAGA. This Mandate and Roles Document is not a contract, nor does it establish or create legal obligations. Rather, it describes and reflects the mandate of the APMC, its relationship with the Minister and the Department, its governance and operational structure, and respective roles and responsibilities.

2.0 Governing Law

2.1 Statutory Mandate of the APMC

The PMA establishes the APMC as a corporation with the capacity and, subject to the PMA, the rights, powers, and privileges of a natural person. The PMA further provides that the APMC is for all purposes an agent of the Crown in right of Alberta and its powers may be exercised only as an agent of the Crown in right of Alberta. The PMA establishes the purpose and mandate of the APMC as:

- Maximizing the long-term sustainable value of the Crown’s resources under the APMC’s purview, subject to directives from the Minister;
- Accepting delivery of the Crown’s royalty share of conventional oil, natural gas and bitumen required to be delivered to the APMC pursuant to an agreement, a contract under section 9(a) of the Mines and Minerals Act or an enactment; this statutory duty includes engaging in the business of marketing the Crown’s conventional crude oil royalty-in-kind volumes, which it may do either directly, through a third-party agent or agents, or through a combination of both. This business includes performing the rights and obligations in relation to buy-sell agreements, and under agreements with pipeline and storage operators, as well as those under ancillary and incidental agreements (e.g., consulting data, marketing intelligence, software, etc.). APMC will continue to incur costs (either on behalf of the Crown or on its own account) as needed to achieve value for Crown conventional crude oil royalty-in-kind volumes (section 15(a) PMA);
- Dealing with the Crown’s royalty share of conventional oil, natural gas and bitumen in a manner that is, in the APMC’s opinion, in the public interest of Alberta ((section 15(b) PMA);
- Engaging in other hydrocarbon-related activities in a manner that is, in the Commission’s opinion, in the public interest of Alberta (section 15(c) PMA); and

- Implementing any directive issued by the Minister pursuant to section 12.2 of the PMA.

The APMC has additional responsibilities under the Regulation and the NGMA, including:

- Prescribing the form of and receiving monthly conventional oil royalty reports (section 4, Regulation);
- Collection activities related to under delivery or over delivery of conventional oil royalty in kind (sections 12 – 15 Regulation);
- Imposing and collecting penalties in relation to timing and accuracy of royalty reports, under or over delivery of royalty in kind, and inaccurate forecasting (sections 6, 7, 8 and 16 Regulation); and
- Providing services relating to price components, issuing findings of producer support for netback gas and, if applicable, holding of and determining procedures for hearings with respect to these activities (“adjudicative functions”) (NGMA Part 1, 2 and 5, and regulations thereunder).

The APMC may be a participant under section 40 of the Financial Administration Act (section 12.1 PMA) and may, with the approval of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, for the purposes of fulfilling its responsibilities under section 15 PMA, directly or indirectly purchase shares, make a loan of money or acquire an existing loan of money, or, in a transaction involving the payment of any money, enter into a joint venture or partnership.

The APMC also has responsibilities under the Mines and Minerals Act and the regulations thereunder.

2.2 Mandate from the Minister – Value-Added Activities

As part of the Government of Alberta’s overall strategic approach to maximizing resource value, the APMC mandate has been expanded to include the following areas of focus:

(a) Sturgeon Refinery

The Government of Alberta developed and announced a long-term policy of using a portion of its bitumen royalty share for strategic purposes to add value to oil production in Alberta. This continues to be, in general, an important element of the strategic direction around value-added opportunities. To support this Value-Added strategy, the APMC will continue to maximize value from its commitments to the Sturgeon refinery.

(b) Value-Added Opportunities

The APMC will also continue to explore new Value-Added opportunities for conventional oil, natural gas and bitumen and to vet proposals coming to government in these areas.

(c) Market Access

The APMC will continue to explore the development of new markets and infrastructure for market access and expansion.

(d) Market Knowledge and Transparency

The APMC will implement data collection and various market surveillance and transparency initiatives to support an efficient market and maximize long-term value of the conventional oil, natural gas, and bitumen resources.

(e) Provide Strategic Advice

The APMC will continue to provide advice and guidance to the Department and the Minister in relation to the APMC's mandate.

2.3 Revisions to the APMC Mandate

With increased global uncertainty and a changing energy sector, the APMC sees an opportunity to evolve and maximize the long term sustainable value of energy resources and identify new opportunities for Alberta. The APMC, working with the Minister, is seeking to amend its mandate in both regulation and statute to:

- Maximize the long-term sustainable value of the crown's resources under the APMC's purview, in addition to directives from the Minister;
- Market the Crown's share of conventional oil, natural gas and bitumen, engage in other commercial activities relating to energy products in the public interest, and expand access to global energy markets;
- Promote a transparent, competitive, and efficient market for Alberta's energy resources;
- Conduct continuous evaluation and improvement guided by clear and objective performance measures; and
- Provide strategic advice to Government.

Additionally, the APMC will enhance collaboration with the Department of Energy to:

- Inform the department of policy advice, support strategies and priorities development;
- Implement directives from the Minister and provide rapid reporting for iterative improvements;
- Suggest additional value-add activities; and
- Provide a commercial lens and market insight to inform effective policy.

These amendments to the APMC's mandate will provide increased opportunities for Alberta, by:

- Leveraging the APMC's space in the market and interaction with commercial players so the APMC can identify and pursue strategic opportunities for Alberta;
- Expanding the APMC's existing market monitoring function, so the APMC has access to real-time pricing data for Alberta's energy commodities, knowledge of the pricing for transportation infrastructure and services for conventional energy products; and
- Increasing market intelligence to support strategic and operational decision making.

2.4 APMC Status

The APMC is, by statute, "for all purposes an agent of the Crown in right of Alberta" (section 8, PMA), which means:

- The Government of Alberta ultimately has legal responsibility for all debts, liabilities, and obligations of the APMC; and
- The APMC is entitled to all legal immunities and any applicable rights and benefits of the Government of Alberta.

2.5 Other Governing Legislation

In addition to the PMA, the NGMA, the Mines and Minerals Act and section 120 of the Business Corporations Act, the APMC has duties and obligations under various other Alberta statutes, most significant the following:

- APAGA and regulations thereunder, which apply to the APMC as a "public agency" under the Act;
- the Financial Administration Act, which governs the APMC as a "provincial corporation", but subject to the Funds and Agencies Exemption Regulation, which exempts the APMC from several sections of that Act;
- the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, which applies to the APMC as a "public body" under that Act;
- the Public Interest Disclosure (Whistleblower Protection) Act, which applies to APMC as a "public entity" under that Act;
- the Public Service Act, which requires that each of the CEO and Chair are subject to certain conflict of interest, disclosure, and post-employment obligations as a "designated office holder". Staff who may be provided to the APMC from the Department under a services agreement remain subject to the Public Service Act.

Because the APMC is a "provincial corporation", the Auditor General of Alberta is the auditor of the APMC.

3.0 Governance

The Government of Alberta is responsible for the legislative, regulatory and policy frameworks in which the APMC operates.

3.1 The Minister

The Minister is accountable to the Legislature for the APMC. The Minister reports to the Legislature on the affairs of the APMC and answers questions about the APMC.

The recruitment and nomination process for Directors is guided by the provisions of Section 2 of the PMA and the APAGA Public Agency Governance Framework, where applicable, and is subject to generally applicable policies established by the Government of Alberta. The process includes the following policies and procedures:

- Directors are appointed by Ministerial Order.
- The Board and the Deputy Minister will maintain a Board succession plan to meet the needs and timing appropriate to both parties.
- The APMC will maintain an inventory of the skills, values, and competencies of the Board as a whole and of each individual Director. Values will include respect, integrity, excellence, and accountability.
- When a vacancy occurs or is expected, the Board and the Deputy Minister will collaborate to identify the competencies needed and provide that profile to those responsible in Executive Search of the Public Agency Secretariat, in the Government of Alberta, to lead the recruitment process.
- A public posting of all vacancies (which includes the required competencies) is the responsibility of the Deputy Minister. The APMC may also post vacancies to expand the search for qualified candidates.
- Candidate applications will be reviewed by the Deputy Minister and the Chair (if separate from the Deputy Minister) and a joint list of prospective candidates sent to an interview panel comprised of the Minister (or a delegate of the Minister), the Chair and a Director.
- Candidates will be assessed based on the applicable competencies and values and the skills identified in the skills matrix for the vacant position.
- Conflict of interest and other screening shall be completed before a list of suitable candidates is prepared for submission to the Minister.
- Incumbent Directors who are eligible for reappointment, to whom the full appointment process does not apply, will be assessed for recommendation to be reappointed based on whether such Directors demonstrate the ability to contribute on a current or future basis in board leadership roles (including Chair, Vice Chair and Committee chairs) or demonstrate distinctive depth of relevant skills and knowledge necessary to lead the APMC to achieving its objectives.

- The results of the recruitment process will be posted publicly on the APMC's website.
- Up to seven board directors may be appointed, with the potential for reappointment based on satisfactory performance and attendance, to a maximum of ten (10) years of continuous service.

Director appointments are made with the intention of creating a Board comprised of individuals who, in the aggregate, have the full range of proven skills, knowledge and experience necessary to effectively oversee the APMC in achieving its mandate.

3.8 Accountability

The APMC and its Board are ultimately accountable to the Government of Alberta (as the shareholder of the APMC) and to the Minister. The APMC's CEO is accountable to the Board.

4.0 Communication, Collaboration and Consultation between the APMC and the Department

There is a clear distinction between the roles of the Department of Energy and the role of the APMC. The Department establishes policy and the APMC is the implementer of policy. At the same time, there is an important and necessary interplay that exists between the Department and the APMC. The APMC's feedback, input and advice informs the policy with the practical realities of how policy operates on the ground. The Department must also communicate clearly to the APMC what each policy is designed to achieve. This two-way dialogue contributes to the overall success of the system.

The APMC and the Department jointly believe that regular and open communications between them are foundational to an effective working relationship. To that end, multiple avenues of communication are employed, including the following:

- The CEO will meet, at the request of the Minister (and with the knowledge of the Board Chair), with the Minister to review matters of financial, policy, or other issues with implications for the APMC, the industry, or government.
- The Minister and the Department will consult with the Chair and CEO of the APMC prior to any legislative amendments of the PMA or Regulation, or other legislation that has implications for the APMC.
- The Board has delegated to the CEO responsibility for most communications between the APMC and stakeholders and members of the public, including a general duty to act as the public spokesperson for the APMC.
- The CEO will ensure that there is a high level of communication, collaboration and consultation at the staff and executive levels between the APMC and the Department (on a sensitive or confidential basis, as required), including:
 - i. collaboration to develop strategies to ensure shared outcomes are achieved;
 - ii. regular contacts between the CEO, Chair and the Minister or Deputy Minister;
 - iii. ongoing interactions with their respective operations staff to ensure efficient and effective work processes;
 - iv. collaborating and advising on key policies which have a significant impact on APMC's performance and mandate;

- v. advising on changes to current policies; and
- vi. advising on changes to budget and finances.

5.0 Financial, Planning and Reporting Arrangements

5.1 Financial

The APMC receives a fee for service paid by the Ministry for marketing of conventional crude oil royalty volumes and for activities performed within the APMC's mandate. Financial, operational, and general administration decisions are the responsibility of the APMC to deliver on its mandate.

The APMC must submit its annual financial report and budget to the Minister for review and input by the Department before inclusion in the Ministry of Energy's financial report to Treasury Board and Finance.

5.2 Planning and Reporting

Each year, prior to the beginning of the new fiscal year, APMC must submit a business plan and budget to the Minister, consistent with government requirements respecting content, timing, and consideration of priorities. The business plan shall cover, at a minimum, the next three one-year fiscal periods and shall include strategic priorities, objectives, and strategies to achieve those objectives and a system of performance measures where appropriate.

Within six months after the end of each fiscal year, APMC shall deliver to the Minister a summary of APMC's performance for inclusion in the Ministry of Energy's Annual Report.

Additional performance reporting by the APMC is provided through the Ministry of Energy's quarterly financial statements.

6.0 Publication and Review of this Mandate and Roles Document

The APMC will ensure that the full text of this Mandate and Roles Document is set out on the APMC's website.

This Mandate and Roles Document shall be reviewed by the Board and renewed, amended, or replaced within three years after the date it is signed.
